

Biscotti

Biscotti, as we know them today, were developed in Tuscany during the Renaissance. A Tuscan baker began flavoring the biscuits with almond and served them alongside a sweet local wine. The dry biscotti were dipped in the wine, soaking it up and bringing out even more flavor. This pairing is still quite common in Tuscany today, where the biscotti are served with a dessert wine called Vin Santo. And you thought biscotti and coffee were a dynamic duo!

Biscotti means 'twice baked' in Italian and all my biscotti are SOFT to the bite.

Did you know if you store biscotti in an air-tight container, at room temperature, they will last for 2-3 weeks?

These are some of top favorite flavors from around the world, plus one exotic flavor for the adventurous!

CHAI-CHOCOLATE CHIP

These biscotti are laced with spices borrowed from classic Indian Chai Tea and paired with mini semi-sweet chocolate chips. The result is a cookie a little spicy and a little sweet. They are begging to be dunked in tea or coffee.

CHERRY ALMOND

These biscotti are sweet, but not too sweet. They have a delicious almond flavoring, with almond slivers and tender dried sweet cherries. Then it is topped with a white chocolate drizzle. Whether it is for breakfast or dessert, you won't be disappointed!

These biscotti are cappuccino-scented, dotted with milk chocolate chips and chopped toasted walnut. They are sure to please any coffee-lover!

CAPPUCCINO

Biscotti

CHOCOLATE TURTLE

This is a double WOW!
What better way to start
OR end your day with a chocolate biscotti topped with a chocolate and caramel drizzle and pecans to finish off the decadent cookie treat?
Drop the mic!

CHOCOLATE DIPPED ANISE

These Classic biscotti takes on a whole new level of deliciousness
with help from licorice-laced anise,
a favorite Italian flavoring,
especially for cookies. The rich taste is so memorable for people and mixed with the rich dark chocolate, make these irresistible!

CRANBERRY ORANGE

These Cranberry Orange
biscotti are loaded with dry cranberries and orange flavors,
then topped with an orange drizzle make them fruity, citrusy and refreshing. A classic biscotti perfect for dunking, to give as a gift or enjoy with friends.

These Lemon Lemon
biscotti are a delicious
blast of citrus sunshine.
It combines lemon zest,
lemon extract, lemon juice, lemon glaze and delivers the lemon burst
you are looking for when eating a lemon cookie.
It's like a slice of lemon
lemon heaven!

LEMON LEMON

GIFT BOX ASSORTED: $30.00
(12 biscotti with your choice of three flavors)

GIFT BOX SAME FLAVOR: $30.00
(12 biscotti of the same flavor)

CUSTOM ORDERS: Minimum order 1 dozen.
Please call to discuss. I am happy to create a custom biscotti for you

"Made with love and baked with the highest quality ingredients!"
thecrosbybaker.com
thecrosbybaker@gmail.com

The Crosby
Baker

